During the first visit

During your first visit, you will either meet with a mental health provider or a medical provider who specializes in adolescent health or endocrinology (how hormones regulate the body).

- Your first visit will be with a mental health provider if you are within a certain age range where we will be discussing starting gender-affirming hormones like estrogen or testosterone. After your first visit, we will schedule a visit with either a mental health provider or a medical provider.
- Your first visit will be with a medical provider if you are within a certain age range where we will be discussing starting puberty blockers. You may schedule a visit with 1 of our mental health providers at another time, if needed.

What to Expect on Your First Visit and Beyond

Before you visit, please call to make an appointment and request gender affirming hormone therapy.

In most cases your clinician will be able to prescribe hormones the same day as your first visit. No letter from a mental health provider is required.

If you're starting gender affirming hormone therapy, you'll have an initial appointment with baseline lab work (blood draw) and then follow-up appointments. *

The receptionist may give you paperwork for the Family Planning locations only). *

Hormone therapy services include:

- Feminizing Hormone Therapy including estrogen and anti-androgen medications
- Masculinizing Hormone Therapy including testosterone

We follow the Informed Consent Model so patients do not need a mental health referral to receive hormone therapy.

Initial assessment

To assess where your child or youth is on their gender journey, your family will meet with one of our assessors and Family Services Specialist at the Gender Clinic.

Appointments are scheduled for 90 minutes and families typically meet for a series of three separate appointments. During the 90 minutes, your provider will meet collectively with the family, and then will spend time individually with patient and parents/guardians.

You do not need to bring anything with you to your appointment. If we need to connect with current or past providers, we can arrange that during your appointment. A release of information for these providers will be required for youth (if 14+ years old) or parents to complete.

Based on what we learn, we will offer resources to best support your family in affirming your child or youth. This may include social and medical transition opportunities within the clinic, as well as additional resources within your community. Families have access to all of the CHOP Care Network primary care practices and specialty care centers.

Gender Clinic Overview

What to Expect at Your First Medical Visit at the Gender Clinic

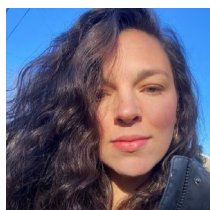

What to Expect

The initial visit is an opportunity for us and for you to learn about each other. A medical provider and a mental health provider will discuss your clinical care goals and where you are on your gender journey, and together with you they will come up with a plan that best supports you both now and moving forward on your journey. You will

2. At the initial visit, you will meet with a doctor and psychologist, who will provide education about the services offered at the Gender Clinic and an overview of gender affirming medical treatments. You will have the opportunity to discuss the gender spectrum, where you are on your gender journey, and what your goals are in coming to clinic. You will have the opportunity to ask questions.

3. You will learn about options for gender affirming medical treatments, including puberty blockers and gender affirming hormones.

7. In addition to core providers, referrals may be made to adolescent medicine, adolescent gynecology, primary care, fertility preservation, and/or surgery.

CALL TO ACTION

- 1. Parents must reject pronoun enforcements as that is the first step leading to transgender drugs. Download the "Safety & Inclusion Express" to learn about why Child Mutilation Advocates push pronouns so aggressively.
- 2. Fill in the opt-out form below and keep your child away from "mental health professionals" in school.
- 3. Share this with parents in your community to dispel the lie that children go through years of mental evaluation before body-destroying drugs are given to them.
